Bill,

Below is an additional email I think we missed, I am working with the staff involved in that meeting to ensure that we have sent you all requested documents.

Steve,

Amador Water Agency is willing to discuss transfer of the Tiger Creek Water Treatment Plant as part of the discussions relative to the GSL project.

As we discussed, there are a lot of moving parts to this whole project including water rights, diversion point relocation, operating levels, power foregone, easements, construction and the Tiger Creek Water Treatment Plant that can all be intertwined into one agreement.

Regards,

Ken-

To be clear, PG&E needs a commitment that the Tiger Creek water system will be transferred from PG&E to AWA before we can agree to the GSL project.

Good Morning,

Attached are the meeting minutes from on 2/3/11 at the Amador Water Agency. Please let me know if there is something I did not address. The approximate date of our next meeting with key personnel would be March 17, 2011 at the Tiger Creek Conference Center and will need to be confirmed by both PG&E and AWA.

Regards,

Ken Hunt
